

Producer Biographies

Brenna recently graduated from Politics at Queen's University. Passionate about the environment, she has travelled to the Canadian Arctic and to UN climate talks. She is a founding member of the Youth Arctic Coalition and Co-creator of Right of Reply on CFRC 101.9fm, where she has volunteered for two years.

Emily is entering her fourth year of Life Sciences at Queen's University. Right of Reply welcomed Emily as Co-producer for 2013-2014 and Executive Producer for 2014-2015. Interested in global health, medicine, and international affairs, Right of Reply provides Emily with a creative outlet to explore intersections between these areas.

Program Description

Created in 2012 by undergraduate members of the Queen's International Affairs Association, Right of Reply aims to make international issues accessible and engaging. Featuring personal experiences, debate, and in-depth discussion with professors, public figures and professionals, we strive to provide the community with the knowledge it needs to make sense of stories in international news.
