

Producer Bio: Kim, Julian and Jen are grad students at the University of Victoria and active members of the local community. Whether it is organizing an academic conference (Thinking as a Way of Life), working with the Vancouver Island Public Interest Research Group, or cycling around town, they embody the ethos of their show Doers, Makers, Thinkers.

Show Note: Doers, Makers, Thinkers is a bi-weekly show that focuses on people who are actively engaged in creating inclusive, thoughtful, vibrant community. The show features interviews with activists, artists, writers, musicians and academics to reflect the diverse and complex nature of Greater Victoria – often highlighting special projects that fly below the radar.
