

Zoë Ludski has hosted radio shows on CJMP for over 3 years. 42 Fish, her tribute to Douglas Adams and Absurdists, is a place to explore comic writing, digital and analog storytelling and live performance. Zoë graduated from Ryerson's Radio and Television Arts Program and has yet to pay off the student loan. To be fair, she is also yet to make any money out of Radio.

42 Fish invite you to join Cousin Awd on board the Mothership for a funky journey exploring your mind and community with a critical ear hole. This interview came about after Cousin Awd became indignant when it seemed no member of the Canadian Government met the Omushkegowuk Walkers when they arrived at the Hill. She had been communicating with Danny Metatwabin via Facebook while he walked, and he agreed to speak on the radio.
