

James Goddard lives in Montréal, QC. He pays his bills by resisting oppressive working conditions and supporting better food options at Le Frigo Vert. He once interned at CKUT 90.3FM, before that he worked at CFRC 101.9FM and CHMA 106.9FM. His writing has appeared on Weird Canada and in Syphon magazine. He is also, a well known radio artist and musician. He is well known for such creative radio documentaries as Art as Luxury-Art as Labour, Voicemails and submitted here for your review: On failure.

This documentary focuses on concept of failure and its sources using radio art as its exploratory medium. Failure of technology, Faillure of language, Failure of colonialism, Failure to induce laughter and many more expressions of failure, inaction and irrelevancy of success.